

East Bridgford, St. Peter's C of E Academy – Homework

Teacher: Mrs Archer Dytch

Subject Geography

Date: 28.2.25

Good afternoon,

A huge thank you for the amazing artwork. Mr. Tomlison is thrilled with the entries we have had. It would be brilliant if someone from our class won, but due to the large number of fantastic entries - it's going to be tough for the judges to choose the winners! We wish everyone the best of luck.

Curriculum:

We are really enjoying our topic, Rocks, Relics and Rumbles. We have learned all about volcanoes and are now learning about how earthquakes are formed and how to measure them. In English we have started a new, non-fiction unit, 'Discussion writing' We have had great fun taking part in whole class debates to help prepare us for our writing. We have discussed the for and against for 'Should boys learn to cook?' and 'Should morning break be cancelled, so we can have extra learning time?' You would be surprised how many children thought it should - they argued their case very well! In Maths we are finishing a short unit on measure - mm, cm, m, and km, and finding the perimeter. In RE we are finding out why 'Good Friday' is so called, when it was such a sad day. In IT we are looking at Branching Data Bases.

PE: We will continue to have outdoor PE on FRIDAY (football for this half term). Please send appropriate kit - warm clothes for outdoors.

HOMEWORK:

I would like everyone to produce a piece of creative work relating to volcanoes. Please include a brief written summary of the features and how it erupts. If you make a model that can erupt, please send in mento's etc and we will erupt them in school.

As Mr T wanted all the children to enter the art competition, I have delayed this homework. Therefore, I am giving the children until the week of 22nd March to complete (I'm aware many children will also wish to enter the Easter egg competition). Over the next few weeks I shall send home other activities, for example Purple Mash maths or Literacy tasks.

A few examples for inspiration, but feel free to have your own ideas.

Thank you.

Mrs. Archer Dytch

To be returned by: 10th Februaryth 2023