Spring 2 Newsletter #4

The children have worked really hard this week as we have been completing our Spring assessments. They showed great focus and commitment, so I am very proud of them. I returned the parent's evening times on Monday so you should have now received these. If not, then please just drop me an email and I can let you know your time.

What have we been up to this week?

- We have planned our own fear stories which we are looking forward to writing next week
- Fractions of amounts and area of rectangles
- The Titanic in History
- Hymns in RE
- We made environmental art out of plastic
- Planning our own blog in Computing
- How to use characterisation in Music
- Science week – we completed an investigation involving spaghetti and a marshmallow!

Next week

- PE will be on Thursday and Friday

Homework

- Spellings – please remember to practice these for next Friday
- Maths – Investigating perimeter and area
- English – Read the text on Purple Mash and then answer the questions on the sheet
- Take care homework - Create your own Frozen Kingdom word search puzzle using all the new words you have learned during the topic. We can then use these with our friends! OR Create a poster or brochure for a new travel company which arranges visits to the Arctic or Antarctic. Use powerful images and text to tempt customers who want an extra-special trip! (Due in on Monday 25th March)

Key dates are available on the Headteacher Newsletter and the weekly newsletter at a glance. See below here:
