Democracy in Action

This week the children explored what Democracy means. We created two parties, the Tinsel party and the Bah-humbug party and our own Houses of Parliament. The children were deciding whether or not we should be having a Christmas Party. Both sides had to prepare and give the points of view and then prepare potential counter arguments. The children worked brilliantly, delivering their speeches and counter arguments both calmly and respectfully. Following our debate we then wrote persuasive letters to Mr Tomlinson asking for his permission to have a party. Thankfully he agreed and we are very excited to be having our Christmas Party on Wednesday 16th December!

We have a very cheeky elf in our classroom at the moment.
This was what we arrived to this morning!!
