What have we been up to this week?

- ♥ Dissected a heart!
- ♥ Heart rate vs sprint time investigation
- ♥ Pattern artwork in the style of famous African artists
- ♥ Adding and subtracting fractions
- ♥ Exploring trade around the world
- ♥ Story mapping

It was lovely to have the chance to speak with you all at Parents Evenings this week. I hope that you are proud of the progress that your children are making and enjoyed looking at their recent work. We have an exciting week ahead, including a museum afternoon across the UKS2 classrooms looking at African artefacts.

I have also really enjoyed hearing about and even seeing some of the fantastic soups that have been made this week. They sound very tasty!
