What have we been up to this week?

- Organising new places and classroom jobs
- Reading and rehearsing out loud our new text in English, The Caravan
- Exploring the impact of climate change on different biomes around the world
- Reading about the importance of women during the war and practising our comprehension skills
- Finding equivalent fractions and simplifying them
- Learning how enslaved people may have tried to resist, revolt and refuse
- Designing PTFA Christmas Cards
- Remembrance Day activities and learning

Welcome back after half-term! The children have come back ready to learn and get stuck into this busy term. Parents Evening letters went out this week – if you haven't done so already, please ask your child to bring this back so that I can confirm an appointment day and time. Next week, I am not going to be here on Wednesday 15th. The children will continue their learning with Mrs Smith in the morning and will be with Mrs Marston and Mr Tomlinson in the afternoon, where they will be learning about racism in sport, as part of our 'A world without judgement' topic.

Year 6 homework for this week

Spellings – Children know these, and they are written in diaries. Also accessible on the class page if you wish.
Maths – Worksheet on simplifying fractions. We have spent two lessons on this so far. There are different levels of challenge available for children to choose from.
English – Task consolidating the children's knowledge of subject and object. If you are struggling to remember how to identify the subject and object, see a brief description below:

Nouns can have different functions within a sentence.

A noun can be the thing that carries out the verb. This is called the subject.

For example:

Laura ate an apple.

A noun can be the thing that has the verb done to it. This is called the object.

For example:

Laura ate an apple.
