Spring 2 Week 5

What a lovely spring week! The class enjoyed the author visit this week and put on their positive pants. We have started learning about decimals in maths and the children have made a great start. The class has also started a new science topic looking at light and we explored this using torches. We did look at our assessments this week so feel free to contact me if you have any questions regarding these. Last week of term next week. I can't believe how quick this term has gone! There will be no homework or newsletter next Friday so I hope you all have a fun-filled break from school.
