This week's column.

This week, we (Lara and Ellie) found out that numbers could have relationships! In geography, we got to do our favourite thing, a double page spread all about the Arctic vs the Antarctic. In art, we got to make Inuit sculptures out of clay. Lara's was a fancy patterned bird while Ellie's was an odd-looking mask! I really enjoyed PE, although we thought Mrs Gilbey asked us how many phones we'd broken rather than bones in a challenge!

See you soon! Ellie & Lara x
